Synchronicity and Psychotherapeutically Human Relationship

Since I have worked clinically and analytically as Psychotherapist and Psychoanalyst, I noticed it happened in fact “Synchronicity” related with positive and successfully going Human Relationship, anyhow anytime and anywhere until now during the therapeutically healing procedure between certain client and me.

I believe it is still nowadays very important element and key word for the Healing Phenomenon within us Human being on the way to our peacefully aim which C. G. Jung discovered at his times and left us at last as his inheritance; It should be One of the “Non-Understandable Experiences to explore more scientifically and systematically for future? And how can we realize it, if yes, our hypothesis from different real cases?
