

MIRIAM STEIN, PhD, (AUS) is a Clinical Psychologist and Jungian Training Analyst in private practice in Sydney, Australia, and member of JPA (NY) and ANZSJA (AUS). Her clinical practice spans over 40 years. Earlier research and its application in the community, was in relation to the experience of and psychosocial adjustment to breast cancer. She was a lecturer at the University of Western Australia's Psychiatry and Behavioural Science Department. She has provided training and seminars to psychologists, candidates and others seeking a psychological depth approach to harnessing the imagination by incorporating non-verbal methods.

Recent Jungian publications include: "A Psychoanalysis of Robert Owen" L. Stein & M. Stein. In Robert Owen: A book of encounters, A. Connor (Ed.), pp.94-132. Perimeter Editions (2020); "Integration of Jungian and Psychedelic Training and Practice: A Conversation" M. Stein and A. Flynn in Psychedelics and Individuation: Essays by Jungian Analysts, L. Stein & L. Corbett (Eds), pp. 117-141. Chiron (2023); "Archetypal Visions: A Discussion with Rachel Feinstein About Her Show Mirror" M. Stein (Gagosian Gallery, London, January-March, 2022), Pp 254-265, in Trans-Disciplinary Migrations: Science, the Sacred and the Arts. Yvonne Owens (Ed.) Cambridge Scholars Publishing (2024); and "The Role of the Brain in Individuation" Stein, L., & Stein, M.(2025) JAP, 70 (3), 462-448.